

Plunger Plop Rules

Anatomy of a plunger

There are two parts to a plunger – the handle and the business end, also known as the “Force Cup”.

Team Plunger assignment

One team will be “Stripes” and the other “Blanks”.

Starting a game

Starting position determined by a coin toss. Each team will pick “heads” or “tails” and the Big Kahuna will do a single coin toss that applies to all teams before each round. Winner has First Choice in First End. After That “END WINNER” Shoots First.

Game Play

- Teams keep their own score and no game shall end in a tie. (see "What happens if we end in a tie?").
- The winning team must report the score to the Master Score Keeper.
- Only one team will score in each end as plungers will cancel each other. Points for each “End” are determined based on the difference in points.
- PLUNGERS MUST BE AIRBORNE to AT LEAST CENTRE LINE.
- Teams MUST complete their end after the whistle.
- If a judgment is required the "Big Kahuna" is the sole and final judge of the game.

- Note: No custom plungers allowed (unless approved by the big Kahuna)

Scoring

Plunger Position	Shot name	Points awarded
Force cup in bowl	Ringer	5 points
Handle in bowl, force cup sticking out	Handle	2 points
Force cup outside of toilet, inside the ring (house)	Standard	1 point

Plungers with the force cup on or inside the ring will count as a point. Opposing plungers cancel each other. Points for each “End” are determined based on the difference in points.

Example 1

3 Stripes in Ring (House)

2 Blanks in Ring (House)

RESULT: Stripe Team Awarded ONE Point

Example 2

1 Stripe "Ringer" plus 3 Stripe "Standard" = 8 points

5 Blank "Standard" = 5 points

RESULT: Stripes Awarded 3 pts.

What happens if we end in a tie?

Each team will throw one Plunger and the "Force Cup" closest to Toilet wins. The winning team gains one point.

Example

Tie Score 8 to 8

After Toss, Stripe Team closest

Final Score: Stripe 9 Blank 8

General Rules

- PLUNGERS MUST BE AIRBORNE to AT LEAST CENTRE LINE.
- Teams MUST Complete End After Whistle.
- If a judgment is required the "Big Kahuna" is the sole and final judge of the game.
